

Four teachers held for Ganga plunge in the buff

Four teachers of a private school were arrested for bathing nude in the Ganga in Bihar's Purnea district, the police said Wednesday.

They were arrested near Manihari in Purnea district, about 350 km from here, after the police received complaints from local residents.

Police sources said they were teachers of an English medium school in Katihar district. They were on a picnic and had reportedly been drinking before deciding on their bath.

The school authorities have decided to sack all four

(© IANS / India eNews)