

Cabinet approves India-Canada renewable energy pact

The cabinet Thursday gave its approval to a pact India and Canada have signed on strengthening cooperation in research, design and development of new and renewable energy technologies.

The ministry of new and renewable energy and the University of Saskatchewan signed the pact that entered into force March 28.

( © IANS / India eNews)