

'Undisclosed' destinations are politicians' favourites

Politicians in the national capital seem to have fallen in love with 'undisclosed' destinations. With uncertainty and confusion in political circles over Tuesday's trust vote, leaders do not want to hold their meetings at public locations or party offices.

After Samajwadi Party leaders Amar Singh and Ram Gopal Yadav chose an 'undisclosed' destination to meet National Security Adviser M.K. Narayanan, Jharkhand Mukti Morcha (JMM) leader Shibu Soren also preferred to stay in an undisclosed location.

Congress general secretary Rahul Gandhi had an hour-long discussion with Amar Singh in yet another undisclosed destination.
