

George Michael gifts fans free X-Mas song download

Pop star George Michael gave all his fans a free download of his new single as a Christmas gift.

His first Christmas single since the 1984 'Wham!' hit 'Last Christmas', the song 'I Dreamed of Christmas' was available for download on Michael's website www.georgemichael.com, reports mirror.co.uk.

The new release was originally promised by the singer on stage on the last night of his Final Two sell-out concerts at London's Earls Court in August, which were billed as his 'last arena shows in the UK'.

It was written and produced by the star and co-written with David Austin.

Michael has sold more than 100 million records worldwide and his 1987 solo album 'Faith' is one of his best sellers of all time.
