

134 flights delayed, five diverted due to fog in Delhi

Over 134 flights were delayed and five diverted on the New Year's day at the Indira Gandhi International Airport here, thanks to a thick fog that enveloped the capital city Thursday morning.

However, 131 flights were operated in low visibility conditions during the day, an airport official said.

While airport officials said nine flights were cancelled, Delhi International Airport Ltd (DIAL), the airport developer, said in a statement that there was no cancellation due to fog.

On Wednesday, at least 10 early morning flights were cancelled due to low passenger load and anticipation of fog by airlines, but flight operations otherwise remained normal. But the fog reappeared Thursday.
