

'Aa Dekhen Zara' set to re-release in multiplexes

The makers of Neil Nitin Mukesh and Bipasha Basu starrer 'Aa Dekhen Zara' are set to release the fast-paced romantic musical thriller again Friday.

Director Jehangir Surti's film was first released March 27 and was shown only in single screen theatres because of the stand-off between producers and multiplexes. But now when the matter is resolved, 'Aa Dekhen Zara' is being re-released on a big scale -- it will hit 170 screens across India.

'This is a perfect opportunity to re-release the film. We are really excited and looking forward to audiences visiting theatres to watch one of the first films to be released post strike. Movie buffs, who missed it earlier, can see it now,' said producer Viki Rajani in a press statement
