

Indian Oil depot fire continues, toll 11

Loud explosions were heard Monday from the Indian Oil depot here that caught fire as the blaze continued to rage for the fourth consecutive day with the toll rising to 11 after one person succumbed to burn injuries.

Flames leapt out from four of the 11 tankers containing petrol and diesel while the fire in seven tanks had died out, though the black smoke they emitted formed dark clouds in a two-three kilometre radius around the depot.

The blaze broke out at the Indian Oil Corporation's (IOC) depot in Sitapura industrial area, about 20 km from
