

Sarah Jessica Parker loves the smell of diapers!

'Sex and the City' actress Sarah Jessica Parker has revealed that she loves the smell of her babies dirty diapers.

The 44-year-old, who has five-month-old twin daughters, Loretta and Tabitha, with her husband Matthew Broderick, says she loves everything about being a mother -- even the less glamorous jobs, reports femalefirst.co.uk.

'I love the smell of diapers - I even like when they're wet and you smell them all warm...I love the smell of Balmex. Love it,' she said.
