

Composed Liberhan says report answers all questions

Justice M.S. Liberhan Tuesday remained composed and asked the media to read his report on the 1992 Babri mosque demolition before asking questions even as the controversial document was tabled by the government in parliament.

'All questions have been answered in the report. You should go and read the report and come to me after that,' Justice Liberhan, who headed the one-man commission into the mosque demolition for over 17 years, said at his residence here.

Speaking at his bungalow in the city's upscale Sector 9, Liberhan was cool and composed Tuesday compared to his outburst a day earlier when he had asked the media to 'get lost' after being asked if he had leaked the report.

Liberhan did not say anything else and went into his house.
