

Diana Ross plans style book

Soul queen Diana Ross is set to focus on her famed stylish outfits in a new picture book.

The singer, who studied design at college, has kept all the outfits she's worn throughout her career and now plans to show them off in a new book, reported contactmusic.com. She said: 'I was thinking of doing a book and putting them all in - like a style book. It's time.'

(© IANS / India eNews)