

Li wants a career in Hollywood

Chinese actress Gong Li is working on developing her career in Hollywood because directors in China take too long to complete movies.

Li was advised by her ex-lover director Yimou Zhang to continue working in Chinese movies but she prefers fast-paced Hollywood.

Contactmusic.com quoted her as saying: 'There are more opportunities for me in the West. Every few days, someone will send me a script or talk to me about a new movie. The new Chinese directors work more slowly than Western directors. It takes them longer to set up their movies.'
