

After building house, Streisand plans a movie

Singer-actress Barbra Streisand is busy constructing her house in California but plans to make one major movie after work on her home is complete, says her husband James Brolin.

Contactmusic.com quoted Brolin as saying: 'She is currently producing and directing a house, and you can't get her attention until eight o'clock at night. As soon as she's finished with that I think she's got one more great picture in her. I'm not sure what that's about but I know it will be a poignant subject.'

Brolin also revealed that his wife of eight years is still a little upset she never got the chance to make a great AIDS love story.

He said: 'She wanted to do an AIDS love story at one time and the time was really right, but then the Tom Hanks picture ('Philadelphia') came out and it didn't happen. It's too bad that her film wasn't done on a low budget.'
