

Halle Berry is pregnant

Oscar-winning actress Halle Berry, who has been dating model Gabriel Aubry since the two met at a photo shoot for Versace in November 2005, is pregnant.

The actress announced her pregnancy in an email to accesshollywood.com.

The website quoted her as saying: 'Yes, I am three months pregnant. Gabriel (Aubry) and I are beyond excited and I've waited a long time for this moment in my life.'

Rumours of a baby had been rife for quite sometime. According to the reports, the producers of her upcoming film 'Tulia' had delayed the shooting, which was supposed to start in October, because of Berry's pregnancy.

The film is now expected to go on floors at a later date.

The actress has been married twice - once to baseball star David Justice and later to singer Eric Benet, but neither marriage produced children.
