

Avalon Aviation Academy launches New Centres in Delhi, NCR

Avalon Aviation Academy, the aviation training wing of Aptech Limited, the Global Learning Solutions Company, has announced the launch of new centres across Delhi and NCR.

To cater to the needs of aspirants for world-class quality aviation training, Avalon Aviation Academy, has launched centres in South Extension and Rajouri Garden, besides its already existing centre at Gurgaon. The institute is also coming up with two more centres in Kamla Nagar and Ghaziabad.

'Aviation has become one of the most sought after career options these days. To cater to the growing demand of the students, we are launching these centres in different locations all over the city. All centres are easily accessible to the student community residing in the various parts of Delhi and NCR,' informs Ms. Preeti Malik, Head - Avalon Aviation Academy.

The centre at South Extension will cater to students of South Delhi, Kamla Nagar centre for North Delhi and the University students, Rajouri Garden for West Delhi, Ghaziabad (UP) and Gurgaon (Haryana) for students staying in East Delhi and NCR.

Assuring quality training at all centres, Ms. Malik said, 'Each of our centres are equipped with world-class infrastructure. We take students on board for real time exposure and training. The students will get the best of training in all the centres. There is no compromise on quality and facilities in any of the centres.'

Avalon Aviation Academy has around 29 centres across India.
