

New photos on display

The Punjab Cricket Association (PCA), known for providing the best of cricket facilities, has now decided to raise the bar.

An entire new range of photographs, digitally printed, greet visitors on all walls and pillars inside the pavilion. The pictures include black and white prints from the era gone by to the colourful India victories in India and abroad.

The latest photos of Team India winning the inaugural Twenty20 World Championships have been displayed at several places.

The seating arrangements in the pavilion block and dressing rooms have undergone a sea change. Inside the dressing rooms, players will no longer be sitting on benches and plastic chairs but cushioned, reclining leather seats.

The offices of PCA functionaries have been completely renovated and compete with the best corporate offices anywhere.

The top PCA office bearers occupy rooms located in such a manner that they can watch matches sitting at their desks, through all-glass walls facing the ground.
