

Woman shot at in west Delhi

A 35-year-old married woman was shot at and seriously injured by an unidentified assailant at her west Delhi home, the police said Friday.

Anita Arora was rushed to the Sir Ganga Ram Hospital after her teenaged son found her lying unconscious and profusely bleeding from a head injury inside their Patel Nagar home early Friday.

The police said she was alone in the bedroom when the assailant pumped three bullets into her head. Anita's son, who was sleeping in the next room, went to her bedroom to check after hearing her scream.

Anita's husband Avinash Arora was at the milk booth near their house when the attack occurred.

'My son immediately informed me about the attack and we took her to the hospital. The police were also informed,' Avinash told reporters.

'We have no enmity with others and are unaware about the motive behind the firing,' Avinash added. The police ruled out robbery as the motive behind the crime as no valuable was reported missing till late Thursday.

According to the police, the boy and one of their neighbours had seen the assailant fleeing after the shooting.

'We are trying to prepare a sketch of the attacker and teams have been formed to apprehend him,' a senior investigating official said.
